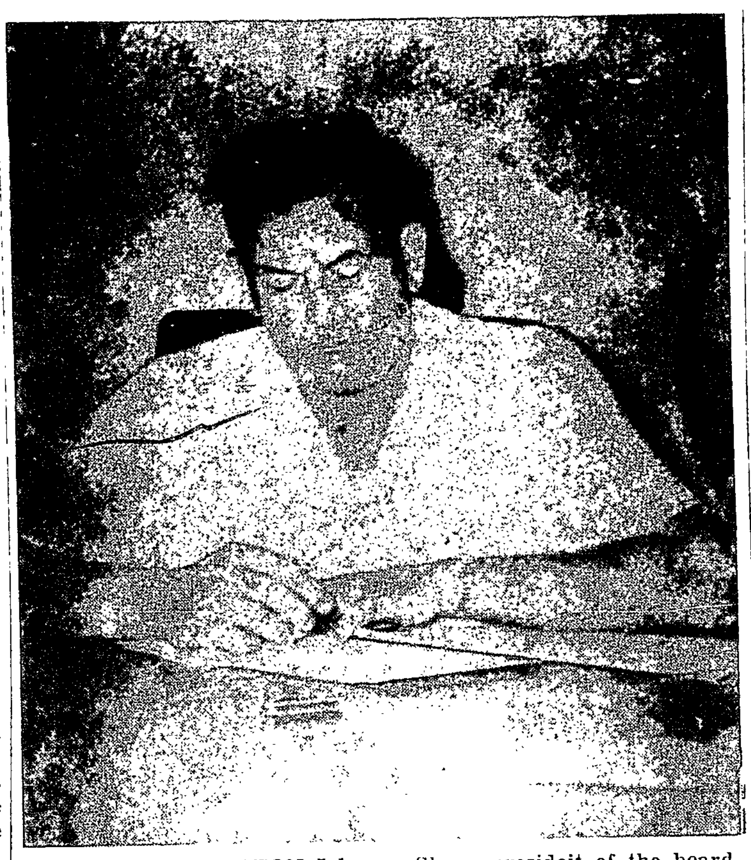
County To Issue Bonds For Construction Of Hospital Here; Building Architects Are Selected



SIGNS APPLICATION-Johnson Shaw, presideit of the board of supervisors, signs the application for the new hospital's funds.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors this week gave notice of a $70,000 bond issue to be made for the purpose of building a new county hospital.

The long-awaited project moved another step toward completion this week also, with announcement that Eugene Mogabgab's firm of architects, will make the plans for the hospital.

The bond issue ,which will be made without an election unless 20 per cent of the voters of the county protest will be used for purchasing a hospital site and constructing the necessary buildings and facilities for the planned institution.

As yet, no location for the hospital has been made. Also, the plans must be approved by the Mississippi Hospital Commission, which has been given notice of the County's intentiions.

The permission of the board is necessary in order that the hospital will receive aid from state and federal funds.

It is proposed that the hospital contain 30 beds. Both the city and the county have accepted responsibility for maintenance.

Among the organizations actively interested in the hospital plans now are the American Legion, Kings Daughters and Sons hospital's board, the City Council and the County Board of Supervisors.

Also present at the meetings where hospital plans have been discussed have been Leo W. Seal, local banker, Doctors Samuel, Shipp, Smith and Wascom and many other interested parties.

It has been urged that all persons having land sites which might be considered for the hospital contact A. C. Mitchell, Clerk of Courts, or the American Legion Hospital committee as soon as possible.

The Legion, which issued the announcement of the architects for the hospital ,pointed out that the firm has to its credit the architectual work on the Gulfport Hospital.

At an earlier meeting Eugene Mogabgab, representing the firm, said that plans could be completed within 60 days.

It is hoped that the hospital, which is expected to go into the red financially at first, can be on a self sustaining basis within three years after construction.

N OVER MILLAGE—Clerk A. C. Mitchell, and R. G. (Manny) Hubbard are shown ssed a problem that arose about the schee millage in the county at the meeting uss building of the new hospital.

His house, however, was for many years the home of 11 children. He took over the duties of father to his brother's children when their parents died. He reared and educated them all.

His short, brisk stride and courtliness were familiar tratis. It was unheard of for Manley Blaize to be late for work.

There were accidents when this engineer was taking his train back and forth on the line. But he received no blame for them. Once he hit a cow on the track and the wreck caused him personal injury. When he finally retired several years ago, the railroad cited him as one of the best valued employees.

The Blaize home until its head moved to New Orleans 15 years ago, was on Washington Street. It is remembered that Manley Blaize never liked to sit down to a table with only his small brood of 11, He always wanted to share his fare with a few invited guests. His home was always thrown open to the young people he loved especially.

The services for a fine engineer were held this week, from his Catholic Church here. No Eulogy could be more fitting than the murmured sentence that went about the city:

'He was just a fine man."

Constable Dean Arrests Youth For Cattle Theft

Constable H. G. Dean from Beat One arrested 17 year old William Payton of Picayune for stealing four head of cattle.

The arrest was brought about because of a tip they received from several people who reported they had seen the boy abducting cattle and also from information received from his grandfather William Norman, who was the owner of the missing stock.

Dean assisted by Constable Stewart of Picayune took Payton into custody at his home. The Hancock County Constable said, "I have a confession from the boy. Only two head of the cattle were recovered. He is supposed to have sold the other two."

The cattle were stolen in Napoleon, which is a part of Hancock County's beat one.

Payton will be tried Monday before Juvenile Judge Nelius Rhodes.

Mayor John Scafide was the principal speaker at the Bay St. Louis Rotarly yesterday when he told of the city's progress and condition.

Introduced by T.T. Robin, Mr. Scafide was described as "the president of our organization—namely, Bay St. Louis."

The mayor said, "The state of the city is good. There is nothing to fear. It is in pretty good shape.'

Speaking on the bonded indebtedness of the city, he said, "The total bond indebtedness of Bay St. Louis is $152,000. This is a small amount compared to the amount we are allowed according to our assessments."

Mayor Scafide told the members of the club the year in which each bond would be retired, the latest being 1972.

He also told of the ad valorem millage in Bay St. Louis for the past four years. He said, "In 1951 Bay St. Louis had 45 mills. The folowing year it was lowered one half a mill. The next year we lowered the mills to 35 and raised the assessments. These even off and the same amount of money was received by the city."

The mayor said that the budget for the schools increased from $87,731 in 1950-51 to $106,112 in 1954. "This is due to the rising cost of supporting our educational system, but we are proud of our schools," he said.

Bressler Heads Legion Drive

Tom Bressler has been named to head the Membership Committee of the American Legion this year, according to a statement made by Sidney L. Bourgeois, Commander of the Clement R. Bontemps Post 139. He headed the same committee last year when the group went over the 300 mark in the drive for new members and renewals of regular members.

The intensified activities in Community Service by the local Legion Post during the last year has caused several past members who had been out of the Legion for 10 or 15 years to rejoin recently. This same activity has brought several new members into the organization.

The post won a special Citation for going over the 300 mark last year and also won two free trips to the National Convention by making the highest increase in membership. We are driving this year to surpass the 350 mark.

Rep. Phillips Introduces School Bus Measure

Hancock County and Bay St. Louis school authorities this week have urged passage by the state legislature of a bill which will allow the county busses to transport children to both public and private schools.

The bill, introduced in the state house by Rep. Walter James Phillips, followed on the heels of a recent school bus controversy here. For the first year, enforcement was made of transportation rulings which prevent students from riding the buses to private echools.

Under the bill which has now been passed by the house and due to go to the senate within the next few days, school children can be carried by the buses to all the schools provided the permission is so given by the county and city boards.

City school children according to the measure could also be allowed to ride the busses if permission were granted by the authorities locally and if the transportation caused no additional cost to the state.

GRAND JURY INDICTS FIVE; ISSUES WARNING

The Hancock County Grand Jury returned five indictments, warned about minors being permitted to patronize barrooms and unauthorized persons carrying firearms.

The jury, which recessed yesterday after a three-day session, returned an indictment against Howard Boyter for murder and Gerald Lewis for armed robbery and burglarly. The information regarding the other three indictments could not be released according to the District Attorney Boyce Holleman.

The foreman of the Grand Jury Lester M. Harierty said, "We have been alarmed by the numerous instances which have come to our attention during our deliberation of minors being permitted to patronize establishments selling beer and wine and we respectfully urge that the sheriff and the District Attorney take such proceedings as may be necessary to prohibit these conditions which we believe are contributing to the delinquency of our juveniles."

He added, "We strongly urge that the sheriff take immediate steps to prohibit the carrying of firearms by unauthorized persons and we further urge the sheriff and the district attorney in the interest of preserving the peace in this county to place certain individuals who have been made known to these officers by us under appropriate and sufficient peace bonds in order to prevent any instances of violence."

REDISTRICTING PETITIONS NOW BEING DISTRIBUTED

The petitions asking for a redistricting of Hancock County are on the streets.

It is for the changing of the boundaries of the five Beats of the County.

Henry Osoinach, one of the signers of the original petition is distributing the papers to the citizens. He said, "Anyone wishing to sign can find a pamphlet in almost all of the business places in town."

Both the initial and the new petitions asks that the Beats be divided so that all would take in parts of Beat 5.

Two thousand signatures are needed before an election on this matter is necesary. However, if the Board of Supervisors sees fit, it can legally redistrict the Beats without an election.

Osoinach said, "This petition is by no means a desire to [illegible] the present supervisors or to cause any upheaval in the county. As generally known, representation on the Board is terriibly out of balance. It is a situation which will invite and ultimately caue some supervisors to misuse his authority.

"We understand that nothing we can do will guarantee faithful performance of offical duties. But we feel that we can be more certain of it by removing the temptations involved."

Under the proposed new plan, the beat lines would come down the county so that the coast would be split into five different beats instead of being lumped into one, as it now is.

SIGNS PETITION-Henry Ostnach, Jr., signs one of the petitions which he is distributing calling for the re-districting of the County.

Bay High Opens Season Against Nicholls, Stanislaus Meets Foley Frid

COLE, LANDERS, MONTI, FAVRE ARE BACKFIELD FOR NEW ORLEANS GAME

Bay Hi opens its football season against Nichols Hi of New Orleans Prep League in NORD Stadium Friday night.

This is the first game of the season for both teams, although Nichols has had a couple of preseason scrimmages with Holy Cross and Slidell.

This will be the first game for Bay High under its new head coach, Lance Lumpkin. He moved here this year to replace Bennie Ray Nobles. Last year he was an assistant at Slidell.

Coach Lumpkin said, "The boys have been showing up mighty well these past four weeks. The line is not as aggressive as we would like them, but they are improving every day.

"The backfield has picked up a noticeable amount of speed since we started practice."

Donald Cole and Don Landers have shown satisfactorily in the passing workouts that the Tigers have held this past week. Cole is handling the ball at quarterback much better than he was a couple of weeks ago.

Hugo Favre, Tommy Moran and Henry Monti have displayed a lot of running power from the backfield positions. The line will average close to 175 for the opening game.

Left tackle is the only spot on the club where the first string position is a tossup. Three Maurigi boys are fighting for a starting berth. Roland, Don and Manuel Maurigi are the three.

"At the present time Don, a transfer from Jackson Central, has the inside track, Coach Lumpkin said. "He is the smallest of the three boys, but is very agressive."

Kent Sellier and Clayton Adams are good pass receivers and add strength to this phase of the game. Thus far in practice Sellier has been the standout on defense.

He is followed by Bobby Boudin, Larry Landrum and John Brooks. Coach Lumpkin said, "At this stage of the season we are without knowledge of how the boys will come out in a ball game but we think that they will develop into a good club as the season goes on.

"After the Nicholls game we will meet some lighter teams, and this should give us an opportunity to show what they really can do. We realize that all of the teams on our schedule will be gunning for us but nevertheless we are going to do our best and play each game as it comes."

Coach Lumpkin would make no definite prediction about the Nicholls game. He said, "All I can say is that it will be a tough game. They are a Triple-A ball club and belong to the New Orleans Prep League."

John Caruso Tops Tulane Backs

Tulane plays its first game this Saturday against Georgia Tech, with a St. Stanislaus product, Johnny Caruso as starting quarterback.

Last year Caruso led the freshman team and played in some of the last games with the varsity. He has been showing up very well in both his passing and his handling of the ball.

He runs with the same ability he displayed in his high school days at Stanislaus and has the same calmness.

Caruso had to compete against four other quarterbacks to receive the first string nod. He weighs 165 pounds.

John received his coaching at Stanislaus from the present boss, Farley Day, and the former head coach, Dick Thames.

Sportsweek

By GREGORY FAVRE

(This is another in a series on the footbal prospects of teams in this area.)

Kiln High has a football team this year. It is composed of a bunch of big but completely inexperienced boys.

The backfield is the strongest part of the team. The line is weak on both blocking and tackling. After a 12-year lay-off the students from that territory have to get used to the idea that they once again have a football team.

Only 16 boys finished the pre-season training session. Each and every one of these boys show a lot of potential. They all have a love for athletics. In the past basketball has been the school's only sport and it has proved very successful in this field. Almost every member of the football team is a basketball player and they all possess the cordination and smoothness that a basketball player needs.

In due time with proper coaching toward the fundamentals of football these attributes in each player should give Kiln a good team.

The team faces a rough schedule for its first year. It meets such teams as Pass High, Notre Dame, Lumberton, Ocean Springs and the team that handed it the initial defeat of the season, the Mississippi School of the Deaf.

The team is working from three formations. The ordinary T, the single wing and the Notre Dame box. It is the writers opinion that this is too many formations to teach a green bunch of boys. It is too complicated and tends to confuse them.

In Larry Ladner, who plays quarterback, Kiln has a natural athlete. His passing is a little weak at this point as well as his handling of the ball. But this is due mostly to the lack of experience. He is a fair runner but should improve in this aspect because of his speed.

Russell Mitchell and Cleveland White will fill in halfback spots. Mitchell is the best running back on the team. He is a big boy with plenty of speed and power. In the game last week he showed up nicely.

White is a fair runner with fair speed. But with a few more games under his belt he should be able to show plenty of improvement.

At halfback Kiln has a boy with a lot of ability. Huey Curet is a well built boy who is fast. He has a fast start and once he is going is hard to stop. He likes to play ball and is the type who wants to move over any obstacle in his way to score.

The line can be summed up in one word, "Inexperience."

But here again each boy at the different positions could develop into a first class lineman. They all are good size boys for high school football. The line averages a little over 170 pounds.

Louis Garriga ,who plays end and who is one of the outstanding basketball players has the best possibilities. He is a tall boy who is light on his feet. His coordination is beautiful. Of course he has many things to learn about football but with a couple of more games of experience he should be able to pin down most of his faults.

The other end Ladner Necaise, the tackles Merlin Necaise and Robert Lacoste, the guards Marvin Lacoste, Bobby Sylvester, James Ladner and Joey Curet are weak both in blocking and tackling. But these are things they can learn. They all have the ambition and rough edge ability to be smoothed into a sharp football player.

But it will take time. They will not reach their high school peak this year. It will be a slow process but Coach Ladner is looking toward the future.

"My boys have to improve in blocking and tackling," Ladner said. "I think that with each game they will improve. We have a rough schedule but my boys will give it everything they have in every game.

Your writer belives that Kiln cannot have a winning season this year. This is due mostly to the schedule that it is confronted with and its inexperience. But in the next couple of years Kiln should be able to field a team that will hold its own with any school of its class.

COACHES HAVE STRESS FOR GAME WITH ALABA

St. Stanislaus invades the den of the Foley Tigers Friday night in its opening game of the football season.

Foley is fresh from a 33-6 victory over Baker, Alabama. In a scouting report on Foley, Coach Farley Day said, "Their team is not as big as they were last year but they are a lot faster. They have a fast backfield and their line is about the same size as ours."

Stanislaus has been working with a new combination in the backfield for the past week. Ed Hargrove, a former guard, was changed to halfback. Hargrove is one of the fastest—if not the fastest—boys on the team. He has added weight, to the backfield, for he tips the scale at 190.

The Stanislaus coaches have been stressing passing throughout the week. Dick Fakier, the transfer from Houma, La., has looked sharp in his passing, running and the pictures are scenes general locale. A group- four oils was done by a sister-in-law.

Another large grouping is centered with a painting of Mrs. Hill's family home. This was copied from a photograph, the work done by Mrs. Barbara Quigley. Surrounding the central scene are prints of antebellum homes.

An original Victorian touch is the fringe which is tacked around around the edge of a small table.

Going through the sill-less door into the bedroom, the center of attraction is a replica of Abraham Lincoln's bed.

"I've seen the original, and this is not so ornate, but as coppies go it is a good one," says Mrs. Hill, whose interior decorating background includes studies under Starring McDonald of the Chicago Institute of Interior Decoration.

At the foot of the bed is a walnut chest, cut down to a more convenient size from an old fashioned, cumbersome armoir.

Mrs. Hill made the large lamp in the bedroom. It consists of a large clear glass jar, filled with water colored blue with vegetable coloring. The shade is an arrangements of picture panels. In the water of the lamp base are colored marbles.

A hallway seperates the bedroom from the bath. This is large enough for a bookcase, this one made by Mrs. Hill's father when he was a young man.

The bath is done in blue-gray and yellow, with gay provincial print curtains at the window which opens to the back yard.

In the kitchen and dining area, the open plan of the home is in particular evidence. A china closet to one side is built into the wall, with the glass doors allowing a look at Mrs. Hills pretty china and glassware. Among her treasures here is a pitcher which a sister brought, literally, in her lap from England.

"It has some value," says Mrs. Hill, "and she was afraid if she let it out of her hands she wouldn't get it to me whole."

Over the sink, white cabinets have been painted by Mrs. Hill in a bright provincial design, the door design having been copied from the pattern on some of the dishes. Over the cabinets is a swiss motif depicting the heart, health and wish for abundance of the home-loving Swiss people.

A circular dining table is used beneath the red printed curtains of a side window in the dining area.

Walls of the kitchen are of carribean blue, which makes an effective background for the colorful cabinets.

Extra guest space is achieved by the Hills on a den-porch to one side of the house.

And to the back is a small service porch, large enough to hold a chaise and a bevy of plants.

The Hills, who have lived in the house for about four years have added so many of their own touches to the original, it is fallacious to think of it as anything but the Hill home now.

And despite it's size, the couple finds plenty of room to spread out, says Mrs. Hill.

For example, Mr. Hill likes modern music and Mrs. Hill leans to the classical, so they have two complete units for record playing and have been known to settle down in seperate rooms for simultaneous home concerts.

This is a house to live in and use, and its value lies not in its rare china pieces or antiques, but its warmth and personality and pleasure to its owners.

Smart, modern, economical gas ranges are preferred in homes everywhere. Whether you're cooking flapjacks or filet mignon, natural gas provides instant, even heat at any desired cooking temperature. You cook cooler with gas, too, because there are no long warm-up or cooling-off periods. . . . Yes, natural gas does all the big jobs in the home, more efficiently and at lower cost. We can all help keep it that way by seeing that the companies which produce this matchless fuel are encouraged in every way possible to continue the search for new reserves for the future. This is the best way we know to assure adequate supplies of natural gas – the biggest bargain in the home today, worth every cent you pay for it . . . and then some!

The Bus Situation

A [illegible] no longer ride school busses.

This is [illegible] school busses is to make [illegible] otherwise get there. We [illegible] school busses were started as a promotional scheme to put more children in the public schools.

There are [illegible] arguments [illegible] subject. But the fact remains that the school bus is designed to [illegible] children to school—and in this part of the state at least a good percentage of the children no longer [illegible] the school bus.

This brings up an interesting question.

In Jackson, they're now [illegible] public schools.

Presumably this means that NO ONE will be eligible to ride a school bus.

About Carol, Edna, Etc.

Some folks around the country are getting mad at the weather bureau because it calls hurricanes by ladies' names. They say it's wrong because there is nothing ladylike about a hurricane and that we shouldn't be frivolous in referring to them.

But, after all, what is a hurricane?

Just a big wind swirling mad.

We've seen lots of ladies in that condition many a time.

Tough Luck

It is really unfortunate that [illegible] the Hancock County fair for this year. This would have been the first and some mighty able men had some ambitious plans for it.

We just hope they won't be discouraged. And that they'll get double support next year.

The county fair is a great American tradition. Quite often urban-like areas don't have the essentials for all-out farming competition. But it's the healthy atmosphere of the county fair which is most important and no county should be without one.

Another Fine Job

The American Legion's junior fishing rodeo was a success as it figured to be.

Some 200 children got a chance to fish to their hearts' delight and to compete for prizes at the same time.

This sort of thing makes for a wonderful community. Between the Youth Center for evening entertainment, and the Legion's fishing contests, there's not much to be desired.

Perhaps one need is more summer baseball. And it is hoped that the Legion might see fit to sponsor a league next summer. Legion baseball is a big thing in the United States, and will be a great program here.

It's true . . .

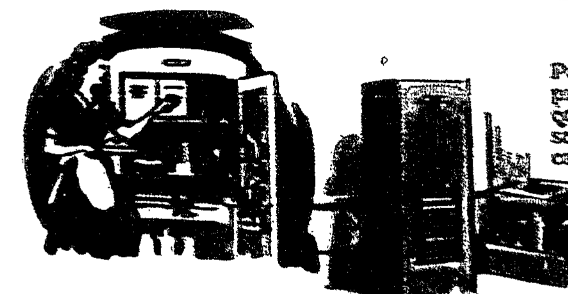
The brewing industry pioneered in the fields of mechanical refrigeration, pasteurization and air-conditioning. Brewers are justly proud of the great benefit these advances have brought to this nation.



Pasteurization, as used in milk and other processing, was made possible only by a discovery made in a brewery in 1876 by scientist, Louis Pasteur, that fermentation is caused by yeast.

Refrigeration by mechanical means was first used in breweries as early as 1860. This was the forerunner of the modern commercial and home refrigerator.

Air-conditioning was first installed in a brewery in Alexandria, Virginia, in 1880. The first patent for a mechanical air-conditioner was issued to Robert Portner, brewer.
